

GLOBAL LEADERSHIP FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

15-16 DECEMBER 2020, PALAIS DES NATIONS, GENEVA

This conference will examine the results of a one-year joint research project of the United Nations Office at Geneva and the World Academy of Art and Science (WAAS) on catalytic strategies to address the complex nexus of global leadership challenges. It is based on findings of 16 working groups, a major e-conference in June 2020, and several smaller events. More than 70 partner organizations of the UN system, academia and civil society and 400 experts have contributed to the project.

With the objective to develop forward-looking recommendations for dynamic and efficient global leadership strategies, the conference will include sessions on peace and human security, economy and employment, health and food security, environment, finance, education, civil society, the media, youth networks, social movements, and integration of research and implementation.
